- Childhelp National Child Abuse Hotline
  - (800) 422-4453
  - https://childhelphotline.org/
  - Reporting child abuse can be scary, but if you are a witness to or a victim of child abuse there is a huge benefit to making the report yourself. Being able to tell your story first hand gives the child care worker much better information than if it came from someone not involved.
  - Our counselors are available to talk through child abuse situations if you have questions or need additional support. We can also help research additional resources that may be available to you.

- Department of Human Resources: The Child Support Enforcement Division
  - (334) 242-9300
  - 3103 Airport Blvd, Mobile, AL 36606
  - https://dhr.alabama.gov/child-support-enforcement-division/
  - This program helps families establish paternity (when necessary), obtain court orders for payment of child support, and secure compliance with child support court orders.
  - Many women and their children fall into poverty or into deeper poverty because the father pays little or nothing for the financial support of his children. Many of these men cannot afford to pay much, but they should pay something – the entire burden should not fall on the mother. A court order forces the father to pay something or else possibly face jail.
  - DHR can help the mother get such a court order. A woman does not have to be a client of DHR in order to get such help. All of these services are free.
