

December 2019 New Fiction

Underlined titles
also available
on audio.

The Wicked Redhead by Beatriz Williams

Distancing herself from an unethical employer and unfaithful husband, a woman investigates the story of a previous resident in her Greenwich Village apartment, a Prohibition-era flapper who went missing amid an agonizing moral quandary.

Blitzed by Alexa Martin

Professional athlete Maxwell Lewis must convince no-nonsense bar owner Brynn Sterling that he is the perfect man for her, but fate conspires against him especially when ghosts from both their pasts make a sudden reappearance.

The Case of the Spellbound Child by Mercedes Lackey

Tasked to investigate rumors of evil magic in Dartmoor, the Watsons and their companions are approached by a poor cottager whose children have gone missing in the region's deadly bogs. By the best-selling author of the Heralds of Valdemar series.

The Attack by W. E. B Griffin

When the cheerleader daughter of a wealthy entrepreneur is found brutally murdered, Philadelphia homicide sergeant Matt Payne uses video footage to identify the killer, the victim's arrogant ex-boyfriend, who has gone into hiding.

Good Girls Lie by J. T. Ellison

In a follow-up to Lie to Me and Tear Me Apart, a popular transfer student at an elite prep school races to protect a dangerous secret when a killer sets her up for a string of murders.

Genesis by Robin Cook

Investigating the suspicious death of a social worker, Chief New York City Medical Examiner Laurie Montgomery makes the controversial decision to use genealogic DNA databases to identify a mysterious killer. By the best-selling author of Coma.

Africaville : a Novel by Jeffrey Colvin

Three generations of a family of former slaves, the founders of a small Nova Scotia community, navigate prejudice, harsh weather and estrangements against a backdrop of the historical events of the 20th century.

Beating about the Bush by M. C Beaton

Discovering evidence of a gruesome murder in a roadside hedge, private detective Agatha Raisin is embroiled in a case involving industrial espionage, a bad-tempered donkey and her own growing fame. By the best-selling author of the Hamish Macbeth series.

A Madness of Sunshine by Nalini Singh

Returning to her impoverished New Zealand hometown to reconnect with familiar things after a personal tragedy, Anahera Rawiri bonds with detective Will Gallagher to uncover the community secrets behind a missing-persons case.