

December 2019 New Nonfiction

Underlined titles also available on audio.

The Broken Road : George Wallace and a Daughter's Journey to Reconciliation

by Peggy Wallace Kennedy

The activist daughter of Alabama governors George and Lurleen Wallace describes her upbringing in the face of her father's virulent segregationist policies and her efforts to repair the damage of his administration when he renounced his views later in life. Illustrations.

The Great Democracy : How to Fix Our Politics, Unrig the Economy, and Unite America

by Ganesh Sitaraman

An award-winning legal scholar and policy expert documents the end of the neoliberal era in America while profiling two possible political paths of the near future involving either a nationalist oligarchy or a transformative democracy.

If You Tell : A True Story of Murder, Family Secrets, and the Unbreakable Bond of Sisterhood

by Gregg Olsen

In the gripping true crime story, three courageous and strong sisters band together to escape their sadistic mother's unimaginable abuse, degradation, torture and psychic terrors, which resulted in multiple murders.

That Wild Country : An Epic Journey Through the Past, Present, and Future of America's Public Lands

by Mark Kenyon

A popular podcaster, outdoorsman and nationally published writer describes the history of America's public land system and the arguing over the years about whether to develop the valuable resources they house or conserve them.

Tiny Habits : The Small Changes that Change Everything by B. J Fogg

An expert of habit formation and behavior science describes how to harness the power of transformation, whether it be to lose weight, exercise more or de-stress, through making tiny changes that we can feel good about. (self-help). Illustrations.

When Reagan Sent in the Marines : The Invasion of Lebanon by Patrick J Sloyan

The late Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist presents an account of the 1983 truck bombing in Beirut that ended 241 American lives, drawing on interviews with key players to offer insights into the Israeli invasion of Lebanon and Reagan's doomed ceasefire. Illustrations.

Labyrinth of Ice : The Triumphant and Tragic Greely Polar Expedition by Buddy Levy

Tells the gripping true story of Lt. A.W. Greely who, in July 1881, along with his crew of 24 scientists and explorers, embarked on a quest for fame and fortune that resulted in one of the most harrowing adventures in the annals of polar exploration.

Disney's Land : Walt Disney and the Invention of the Amusement Park That Changed the World

by Richard Snow

A history of the conception and development of the iconic California theme park chronicles how Walt and Roy Disney and a small group of artists endured innumerable setbacks to create one of the world's most popular destinations.

MOBILE  PUBLIC LIBRARY

Mobile Public Library

700 Government St.

Mobile, Alabama 36602 | 251-545-3366

mobilepubliclibrary.org