America's Reluctant Prince: The Life of John F. Kennedy Jr. by Steven M Gillon
A leading historian who was also a close friend of John F. Kennedy, Jr., offers a deeply researched, personal, surprising and revealing portrait of the Kennedy heir the world lost too soon. Illustrations.

American Carnage: On the Front Lines of the Republican Civil War and the Rise of President Trump by Tim Alberta
The Politico Magazine chief political correspondent reveals how a decade of cultural upheaval, populist outrage and ideological warfare made the GOP vulnerable to a hostile takeover by an unlikely presidential candidate.

The Liberation of Paris: How Eisenhower, De Gaulle, and Von Choltitz Saved the City of Light by Jean Edward Smith
A prize-winning and best-selling historian tells the dramatic story of the liberation of Paris during World War II, showing how the decision to free the city came at a heavy price—it slowed the Allied momentum and allowed the Germans to regroup.

The Vagabonds: The Story of Henry Ford and Thomas Edison’s Ten-year Road Trip by Jeff Guinn
Explains how two American business giants—Henry Ford and Thomas Edison—and their annual summer sojourns introduced the road trip to American culture and made the automobile an essential part of modern life, even as their own relationship altered dramatically. 100,000 first printing. Illustrations. Tour.

Inseparable: How Family and Sacrifice Forged a Path to the NFL by Shaquem Griffin
NFL stars Shaquem and Shaquill Griffin’s story of struggle and triumph reminds us powerfully that it’s the very things that threaten to break us that allow us to become who we truly are.

On the Clock: What Low-wage Work Did to Me and How It Drives America Insane by Emily Guendelsberger
A college-educated young professional details her struggles to find a qualitative job, detailing the grueling realities of hourly labor for the fastest-growing segment of the American workforce while outlining strategies for more humane employment practices.

Searching for Stonewall Jackson: A Quest for Legacy in a Divided America by Ben Cleary
A portrait of Stonewall Jackson shares insights into how he reconciled his deep religious beliefs with the institution of slavery, discussing his contradictory Civil War strategies and founding of an African-American Sunday School.

American Predator: The Hunt for the Most Meticulous Serial Killer of the 21st Century by Maureen Callahan
An award-winning New York Post investigative journalist documents the story of enigmatic serial killer Israel Keyes and the efforts of the Anchorage PD and the FBI to capture him, discussing what his case reveals about 21st-century law enforcement.

Buzz, Sting, Bite: Why We Need Insects by Anne Sverdrup-Thygeson
An enthusiastic, witty and informative introduction to the world of insects explains why we—and the planet we inhabit—could not survive without them.

Last Witnesses: An Oral History of the Children of World War II by Svetlana Aleksieivich
A Nobel Prize-winning author presents an oral history of children’s experiences in WWII across Europe and Russia, providing a kaleidoscopic portrait of the human consequences of the war.
Surfside Sisters by Nancy Thayer
Returning to her Nantucket childhood home in the wake of personal and professional setbacks, a novelist is forced to settle old scores with her former best friend and unfaithful ex.

Lost and Found by Danielle Steel
Spurred by old memories and a life-changing accident, Madison embarks on a cross-country adventure to reconnect with three very different men to reevaluate her past choices.

The New Girl by Daniel Silva
The kidnapping of a mysterious girl from her Swiss boarding school ignites a secret war between Israeli intelligence chief Gabriel Allon and an old enemy who would transform the future of the Middle East.

Under Currents by Nora Roberts
Discovering unexpected allies when his successful father’s rages spiral out of control, Zane draws strength and insights from the darkness of the past to create a healthier family in adulthood.

Window on the Bay by Debbie Macomber
When single mom Jenna Boltz becomes an “empty nester,” she spreads her wings to rediscover herself — and her passions.

Lady in the Lake by Laura Lippman
A divorced reporter in racially torn 1966 Baltimore triggers unanticipated consequences for vulnerable community members while investigating the murder of an African-American party girl.

Someone We Know by Shari Lapena
In a quiet suburb in upstate New York, a teenager has been sneaking into houses—and into the owners’ computers—and causing a stir by learning and sharing the residents secrets.

Smokescreen by Iris Johansen
Racing to Africa when a village is attacked by guerilla forces, Eve Duncan begins to suspect a deeper plot before finding herself stranded in the jungle of an unstable country.

Never Have I Ever by Josshilyn Jackson
When her loved ones are put in danger by a blackmailer who threatens to expose dangerous secrets, a devoted family woman struggles to keep the upper hand in an escalating war of betrayal.

Almost Midnight by Paul Doiron
When his best friend is released from prison under suspicious circumstances, warden investigator Mike Bowditch races to protect his friend’s family only to uncover a violent criminal conspiracy.